To the editor:

You ought to be ashamed of yourself for publishing an unwarranted and unfactual defamation of Harold Weisberg in your 5/21/92 editorial, "Best Evidence". Harold Weisberg has allowed me free access to his extensive files and has given me considerable unpaid help in developing courses on the Kennedy assassination over the past several years. He is not just another conspiracy buff pandering to public interest in the assassination. If you know anything, Mr. Weisberg has been the principal critic attacking Oliver Stone's commercialization and exploitation of this tragedy.

Harold Weisberg, personally, has done more to preserve an accurate historical record of the assassination and its investigations than your own mighty New York Times, with all its staff and resources.

And if you knew anything about that record, you would know that Drs. Humes and Boswell, in their AMA interview, were just repeating lies they orginally fed the Warren Commission. Their own evidence, such as the official death certificate of the President, disproves their statement that President Kennedy was shot in the back of the neck. He was not! He was shot in the back. And no effort was made to trace the track of that bullet during the autopsy!

The New York Times' ignorance of established fact and continuing efforts to bolster official deceit and cover-up I find appalling.

In disgust,

Gerald Ginocchio
